Dear Partners,

LLC "SWISS KRONO" consistently implements modern European standards of quality and environmental safety, aligning with the highest market requirements and EU legislation.

We hereby inform you that all products of LLC "SWISS KRONO" manufactured from August 6, 2026, will comply with the requirements of Commission Regulation (EU) No. 2023/1464 (REACH), which establishes new, stricter limit values for formaldehyde emissions from wood-based panels and products made from them.

In accordance with the new requirements, the reduction of the permissible formaldehyde emission level from 0.124 mg/m³ to 0.062 mg/m³ significantly increases the environmental safety of our products and contributes to improved indoor air quality.

As a result, our partners gain several key advantages:

- enhanced environmental safety and greater care for the health of end consumers;
- compliance with current and future EU regulatory and environmental standards, minimizing risks when placing products on the market;
- expansion of export opportunities and application areas in international markets;
- increased value of the final product due to improved environmental characteristics;
- strengthened competitiveness through compliance with the highest environmental standards;
- long-term alignment with sustainability principles ("future-proof").

We will continue working to ensure that we offer our partners products that not only meet current market requirements but also exceed them.

If you have any questions, please contact your SWISS KRONO manager. We are always ready to provide additional information, technical documentation, and consulting support regarding the implemented changes.

Thank you for your trust and fruitful cooperation.
